

Do you have what it takes to be an industry leader's Consumer Outreach Audiologist? Don't miss this great career opportunity...

GN Resound is the Canadian division of the world's leading manufacturer of hearing aids. The company sells its innovative solutions through private and public sector hearing clinics, audiologists, ear-nose-throat specialists and hospitals. This company has experienced exceptional growth and has become an "employer of choice" thanks to a quality team, no frustrating bureaucracy and an empowering, positive work environment that encourages new ideas.

Your main role as Consumer Outreach Audiologist would be providing product training, support and information to clinicians/dispensers, primarily in Southern Ontario (2-hour radius from Toronto) as well as in Windsor, Ottawa, Northern Ontario and the Maritimes.

You will earn a competitive salary and attainable bonuses while enjoying a car allowance, mileage reimbursement, a comprehensive benefits package and career advancement opportunities.

Requirements

- Masters degree in Audiology;
- Minimum 3 years of relevant work experience within the hearing aid industry or clinical practice and strong knowledge of/experience with digital hearing instruments;
- Excellent verbal, written and presentation skills in English;
- Customer service aptitude and the ability to relate well to diverse personalities;
- Strong organizational skills needed to meet deadlines, multitask, prioritize and maintain attention to detail;
- Willingness to travel overnight on occasion in Ontario, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia;
- Must maintain good standing with professional regulatory body, including Continuing Education Units (CEU) and stay abreast of current/emerging technology and market trends.

This is your chance for a prosperous career with an established and growing industry leader. Apply today at ljakobsons@cobblestonepath.com. Please respect our hiring processes: no direct-to-employer submissions.