

Private Practice Audiologist

Team-oriented – Organized – Positive!

You love to work as part of a team. You have great time management abilities, communication skills, and radiate positivity!

A Little About Us:

Global Hearing Aid Clinic began treating patients in the Toronto area in January of 2003. They have experienced wonderful growth throughout the area with primary locations now in both Lawrence Park and Leaside. From the treatment and diagnosis of hearing disorders with the most extraordinary hearing technology available, Global Hearing Aid Clinic has become a hallmark for patient care excellence in the community. We are looking for an experienced audiologist to join our practice!

We take a very patient-centered approach, where we not only test objectively through diagnostics, but also seek a subjective understanding of our patients' lifestyles; we talk to patients about their daily activities, learn what their expectations and goals are, then determine the best option for them based on their budget and needs.

Qualifications:

- Audiologist able to be registered with CASLPO
- Excellent interpersonal skills
- Strong organizational skills
- Ability to prioritize and handle a high volume of patients
- Ability to work in a team environment
- Ability to maintain a positive and professional attitude
- Strong compassion, care and respect for patients

Why You Want To Live Here:

Toronto is the capital of Ontario. Sitting on the northwest shore of Lake Ontario this city has something for everyone. Whether it's the dynamic downtown with its soaring skyscrapers or small local pubs this area boasts a large variety of activities during both the summer and winter. Restaurants that will please any palate and local hotspots like the aquarium or Royal Ontario Museum.

Why We're Different:

We strive for the utmost level of patient satisfaction; it is our goal to ensure that each and every patient is a Patient for Life. As the only Audigy™ practice in the community, Global Hearing Aid Clinic provides its patients with the most experienced professionals, extraordinary technology, excellent service and exceptional value. We hold ourselves to high standards, and we expect our new addition to not only whole-heartedly believe in the same standards, but commit to holding themselves and others to those standards as well.

Some ways we differentiate ourselves among competition:

- Patients For Life: This is a system of best practices that we follow to ensure that our patients are not just one time visitors. We want to build a level of trust and connection that brings them back to our practice for the right reasons: transparency, patient experience, high quality technology, and a commitment to what is best for them, not us.
- Continued Education: We believe in offering a high level of technology and service in the industry, and in order to keep up with current knowledge, we must be devoted to improving our understanding on a regular basis. Learning the new technology is the only way to guarantee our patients a quality experience.
