

Hearing Professional – Ontario

HearingLife Canada, which includes ListenUP! Canada and National Affiliated Providers, is the largest provider of hearing healthcare service in Canada. Working in unison with the National Campaign For Better Hearing's awareness campaign (campaignforbetterhearing.org), our core philosophy is to "do what is best for the client" while increasing awareness of the effects of hearing loss and the benefits of hearing devices.

The Role:

The clinician is responsible for effectively treating hearing loss for their clients in a professional, caring and expert manner. The clinician acts in accordance with the required provincial professional licensing standards and in accordance with our own high standards of care and clinical processes and procedures. If you can uphold the highest clinical, diagnostic and commercial skillset and can perform in a high energy professional environment with empathy, compassion and professionalism, if you are driven and would like career opportunities and upward mobility; then we would like to meet with you to discuss immediate opportunities within our group for all clinicians.

We offer the very best team with regards to support, professional development, clinical freedom and the most aggressive reimbursement package in the industry. All of this in a fun, friendly and non-micro-managing environment. As an employee you will also have the ability to work directly with The National Campaign for Better Hearing and help continue to create a National awareness of hearing loss and all solutions.

Key Responsibilities:
