

Hearing Care Practitioner Position

We are looking for a clinically skilled and patient-oriented Audiologist or Hearing Instrument Specialist to provide hearing care to our patients. This is a full-time salaried position, and the salary will reflect the high demands of the job.

True Hearing Health is a state-of-the-art hearing health practice. Founded in 2021, our clinics are outfitted with the newest equipment available, are paperless, and are beautiful spaces to work in. True Hearing Health was started by a very experienced team to change the way the patients view hearing healthcare. We are committed to building long-lasting relationships with our patients based on trust and education. Every patient leaving our clinic is hearing the best they can or has made an educated decision not to.

What You'll Receive:

1. Highly competitive salary: $65,000-$100,000+ (depending on experience)
2. Flexible compensation structure (salary/bonus)
3. Full benefits
4. Having input into the direction and strategy of the company
5. The joy of helping patients with their hearing health everyday
6. Starting with 3 weeks of paid vacation, more with experience (we'll beat what you currently have)
7. 5 paid sick days
8. Paid ongoing education and training
9. Working with a team that has your back

Job Expectation and Responsibilities

1. Licensed Audiologist or H.I.S.
2. Performing audiometric diagnostic testing
3. Recommending treatment options for patients
4. Educating patients about hearing healthcare
5. Ongoing treatment for patient's hearing healthcare
6. Ensuring that patients have an experience that is worth telling a story about
7. Learning and implementing the professional tools that we have developed
8. No sales pressure

Location: Southwestern Ontario

Relocation package and settlement allowance available for preferred candidates.

If you are interested in working with us in Ontario, please reach out as we are hiring and expanding across Ontario.

You will be responsible for treating our patients with the highest level of care. We understand this is a big responsibility and we will compensate and train you accordingly. We have developed the tools and processes to help make this role as efficient and effective as possible. Our practice is evidence based and research driven. We exist to help our patients. We hope you will join the team with these same goals in mind.