Duties

The successful applicant will have the opportunity to provide a full range of diagnostic and rehabilitation services, including, but not limited to, hearing assessments, otoacoustic emissions testing, auditory brainstem response testing, and hearing aid selection, fitting, and verification through the provincial hearing aid program. Services are provided to a predominately outpatient population of all ages within the western region of Newfoundland and Labrador. Travelling clinics within the region will be required. The incumbent may also be required to participate in health promotion activities. The successful applicant will work together with other audiologists at their respective site and as a member of an interdisciplinary team. The incumbent will report directly to the Regional Manager of Developmental Health and Adult Speech and Hearing at the Western Memorial Regional Hospital, Corner Brook site.
